'Failure Premortem'

A quick exercise to notice what is holding you back.

Imagine in 1 month from now, you fail to achieve your goal. Write your story of how it happened. What factors possibly lead towards it?

When you have written all those factors, you would have all your weak points to work on. These factors may be excessive use of social media, lack of Mcq practice, lack of concepts or any other thing in your case. Work on them before they work to fail you. You have the time in your pocket now, you can easily change your story by working on them the right way.
